We support the distribution of handouts, including candy, by persons walking along side the floats, wagons or trailers. We hope the music and noise makers from the parade units and the oohs and awes from those watching will project across state lines, and that delightful photos taken will fill many scrapbooks with memories.

As you know, NY State Vehicle and Traffic Laws hold the operator of vehicles responsible for any damage and/or injury they cause. Safety experts recommend that you check your vehicle and any trailers/wagons you are pulling for unsafe conditions: making sure your cargo, seating, and riders are safely secured, and that you provide adult supervision at all times so that that person can notify the operator quickly should an unsafe condition arise.
